More families and churches are breaking ties with the Girl Scouts because of its connection to the abortion chain Planned Parenthood.

This month, the Catholic Archdiocese of Kansas City in Kansas was the latest to announce plans to stop hosting Girl Scout troops in its parishes. The parishes are being encouraged instead to charter American Heritage Girls troops, which teach Christian values and virtues. The Girl Scouts' ties to the Planned Parenthood abortion chain and other abortion advocates have led to an exodus of many Christian families and churches. To read more go to <http://www.lifenews.com/>
