Pro-Life Advocates Saved Several Babies From Abortion by Singing Christmas Carols Outside Abortion Clinics

National Micaiah Bilger Jan 2, 2017 | 4:32PM Washington, DC

Wonderful things happened this past Christmas when pro-lifers gathered to sing Christmas carols outside of abortion clinics across the country. Their songs celebrating the birth of the Christ child inspired several women to choose life for their unborn babies. In an interview with the National Catholic Register this week, Pro-Life Action League Executive Director Eric Scheidler said he recently learned about babies in Florida and California who Christmas carolers helped to save
