

Company executive comes forward to confirm our identification of the biggest threat to taking over the White House in 2020...

- "I'm very concerned to see Big Tech and the Big Media merge, basically, with a political party, with the Democrat Party."
- "We . . . are seeing tech use its power to manipulate people."
- "We have tech that really, first of all, is taking sides in a political contest."

"We're just at a really important point in human history," insists Coppola, who works on artificial intelligence and Google Assistant—or at least he did, until the tech giant put him on "administrative leave". "It's time to decide," declares Coppola. "Are we going to just let the biggest tech companies decide who wins every election from now on?" I believe that preserving the integrity and freedom of our elections is one of the most important steps that we can take. The question is, what do you think? Will you help fight this technology coup or stand by and watch it happen? Join me in faxing Congress to demand action to stop "Big Tech" from stealing the next election.

We have a window of opportunity to take action against this censorship. The Senate and House have both had congressional investigations and the Department of Justice is investigating anti-trust concerns. That's why I'm asking you to contact your legislators. I invite you to utilize our faxing system. Just click the button below to get started.

Expert Dr. Robert Epstein told a Senate hearing last week that America's "Silicon Censors" could "shift 15 million votes" to their favored candidate in 2020. That is more than 5x the difference in total votes between Secretary Hillary and President Trump in 2016 (which was 2.86 million).

"To let big tech get away with subliminal manipulation on this scale would be to make the free and fair election meaningless," Epstein told senators. Our staff is very active and very involved in this issue on Capitol Hill. Please don't be silent as our leaders and decide what path our nation will take.
